A great variety of technologies are available today that offer alternative means to engage students and enhance the learning process. Demonstrations of digital tools, applications and features that can help diverse learners develop knowledge and skills will be shared as well as practical suggestions for parents, caregivers and educators.

Participants will learn:

- websites and applications that help students access content and assist with study skills, reading, writing, and other learning needs;
- specific tools, applications and features that can be used on mobile devices such as laptops, Chromebooks, smartphones;
- Universal Design for Learning framework and related resources that offer multiple means to achieve success.

ANYONE INTERESTED IN ATTENDING MUST PRE-REGISTER.
